VOTED SCOTLAND'S BEST NEWCOMER 2017
SCOTLAND'S BEST OUTDOOR ADVENTURE EXPERIENCE 2018
SCOTLAND'S BEST TOUR EXPERIENCE 2019

"Ewan is a very knowledgeable, passionate and committed naturalist. I would highly recommend his nature expeditions to get the best experience of Mull and its wildlife."

Iolo Williams - Naturalist & BBC Springwatch Presenter

NATURE SCOTLAND - WILDLIFE TOURS:

Join Ewan for a land-based wildlife adventure to discover the Isle of Mull and the Ardnamurchan Peninsula.

Explore some of Scotland's finest wild areas, searching for iconic species such as Golden Eagle, White-Tailed Eagle, Otter, Hen Harrier, Red Deer and many more.

Our flagship tour is the Mull Nature Expedition, which is a vehicle based experience that includes easy leisurely walks of 30-60 minutes to delve deeper into the habitats and connect with the islands wilder places.

We also provide the Mull Wilderness Expedition, Ardnamurchan Tour, Private Tours and package expeditions with BBC Springwatch presenter, Iolo Williams.

STAFFA WITH STAFFA TRIPS

Twice daily sailings to Staffa from Iona and Fionnphort (on the south-west tip of Mull) or a full day tour from Oban

www.staffatrips.co.uk
Tel +44 (0) 1681 700755

STAFFA TRIPS

Staffa is a beautiful uninhabited island, famous for its dramatic basalt columns, sea caves and bird life. Over the years it has captivated thousands of people including Queen Victoria, Robert Louis Stevenson and Jules Verne.

Fingal's Cave is always splendid and atmospheric and puffins can be seen ashore in season. If you're lucky, you might see a passing, porpoise, dolphin, or whale!

The trip lasts approximately three hours and you can disembark at Fionnphort or Iona.

We leave Iona and Fionnphort twice daily (1st April - 31st October) and we aim to give you at least 1 hour ashore.

MOTORHOMES ON MULL:

Motor homes are very welcome to the Isle of Mull but please take care as large numbers of motorhomes coming to Mull can create difficulties on our narrow roads and parking places. Drive as slowly as you wish, but please let traffic behind pass you by using available passing places.

Please note that there is no such thing as "wild camping" in Scotland in a motorhome or campervan. The Scottish Outdoor Access Code specifically excludes motorised access. This means that if you are parking in an area out-with established campsites you do not have permission to stay there and you may be asked to leave by the landowner. Water and Waste facilities are available on campsites only so please make sure you have your site booked.

A Guide for Campervans and Motorhomes on Mull is available at Visitor Information Centres and www.isle-of-mull.net/accommodation/wild-camping/

DID YOU KNOW?

The Minke Whale is the true denizen of the deep in the waters around the Isle of Mull. These small whales, measuring up to 12 metres, have been the subject of study by Sealife Surveys, a company based in Tobermory, over the past 30 years.

Both Common and Atlantic Grey Seals can be seen off the coast of Mull. To see Common Seals, try looking in Salen Bay or take a short boat trip from Tobermory across to Calve Island. Atlantic Grey Seals prefer more remote areas, like the Treshnish Isles which can be visited by boat from either Tobermory, Iona or Ulva Ferry.

THE MULL AQUARIUM is located in the Harbour building and is Europe's first catch and release Aquarium, with a seasonal display of magnificent local marine life that is returned to the sea every couple of weeks.

TOBERMORY BOAT TRIPS run daily from the pontoons here in Tobermory harbour to see whales, dolphins, harbour porpoise and much more on the famous Sea Life Surveys boats or Staffa Tours offer you the chance to spend the day with the puffins on the island of Lunga and also to land on the amazing island of Staffa made from naturally formed basalt columns creating a spectacular cave. Staffa and Lunga are also very popular for other sea birds. Both trips offer two very different wildlife experiences and the boats can carry up to 60 persons.

Courtesy bus(es) are available to take you on the scenic drive through Mull to Ulva Ferry for the regular Turus Mara boat trips out to Staffa and The Treshnish Isles and their world renowned puffin therapy. Due to the popularity of all these tours it is advisable to book well in advance.

DID YOU KNOW?

Warm soils and humid conditions provide the right conditions for a wealth of fungi in Mull's woodlands. Late Summer and Autumn are the best times to go on a fungi foray on the island. Aros Park, is a great place to visit to find a wide assortment of these colourful and fascinating organisms. Mull's mild and damp climate also supports a luxuriant community of ferns, mosses & lichens. Just about every tree on the island is festooned with these plants and ancient organisms. Lichens are ecological barometers of a health environment, of clean air and low pollution. That so many are found on the Isle of Mull bears testimony to the good health of the island!

CALMAC FERRIES TO AND FROM MULL:

Caledonian MacBrayne operate ferry services Oban to Craignure, Oban to Fishnish, Oban to Lochaline, Oban to Kilchoan, Oban to Tobermory, Oban to Fionnphort, Oban to Iona. Timetables are available from Calmac offices and also online on www.calmac.com

The only ferry you need to book in advance is the Oban - Craignure if you are crossing with a vehicle. Foot passengers do not need to make reservations. Passengers with vehicles must also ensure that their return journey is also booked in advance. The ferry service to Iona is a foot ferry ONLY (bikes are permitted).

ULVA FERRY - does not run on Saturdays

Ulva also has a small foot passenger shuttle service which runs on demand usually 6 days a week in summer. Simply turn up at Ulva Ferry and if you cannot see the small boat slide the lever on the signpost to red and await the boat. Once you see the boat coming please just slide the sign back across ready for the next passengers (bikes are permitted).

IONA TARTAN - MARTYRS BAY
The Sound of Iona tartan has recently been designed and woven in Scotland and was inspired by the colours of the sand, sea and rocks of Iona. Lying off the west coast of Scotland, the island of Iona has the mighty Atlantic Ocean on its western shore and the shallow waters of the Sound of Iona separating it from its near neighbour the Isle of Mull. In the early 20th century, Scottish colourists made regular painting trips to the island. Their famous seascapes reflect Iona's vibrant colours and photographers and painters continue to visit to capture the clear light.

DID YOU KNOW?

The waters around Mull and Iona are rich with marine life, one of which is the Basking Shark, the second largest fish in the world and which is mostly seen from June to September following plankton blooms. Minke whale appear during the months of April & May, and stay long into the autumn months, when the seas are at their warmest. Common dolphins are seen from the boats in larger pods feeding and passing through hebridean waters, whereas bottlenose dolphins are seen from land and seen playing and feeding in local waters.

Seafood - the pure clear blue waters around the West coast of Scotland are rich in molluscs and crustaceans, they are an important part of the marine food chain and provide pubs and restaurants with a wealth of tasty seafood for locals and visitors to enjoy.

The sea provides a large part of the employment in the area. Fishermen catching langoustines, crabs, lobsters, clams and many varieties of sea fish.

Scottish salmon farms provide many local jobs for growing the fresh Scottish salmon you get on your plate.

Mussel farming is also another great provider of employment in the area.
